

IAMFA

PO Box 277, Groton, MA 01450
Website: www.iamfa.org

International Association of Museum Facility Administrators

---

On behalf of the International Association of Museum Facility Administrators (IAMFA), please accept our invitation to attend a summer luncheon.

Details are as follows:

Date:

July 29th, 2009

Location:

Cooper-Hewitt, National Design Museum
2 East 91st Street New York, NY 10128
Phone: 212.849.8400

Time:

11:00 am until 1:00 pm

Agenda:

- Welcome from Mark DeMairo P.E. , Director of Operations, Neue Galerie
- Background on IAMFA, John Castle P.E. , IAMFA V.P. of Regional Affairs
- Washington DC Conference Presentation, Nancy Bechtol, Director, Office of Facilities Management and Reliability, Smithsonian Institution
- Lunch (free)

There will be an optional back of house tour of the Cooper-Hewitt at 1pm. To ensure we have enough seats and plates, please RSVP by via email to jcastle@winterthur.org.

What is IAMFA?

Besides you, nobody knows what it's like being responsible for the facilities of a cultural institution like the International Association of Museum Facility Administrators. We are your colleagues from all over the world and we know how tough it is out there. As an IAMFA member, You will learn from other museum facility professionals what they are doing to respond to today's economic realities. You will learn about the best practices of others, and compare notes from men and women from around the globe

IAMFA Conference

This year's Annual Conference is in Washington DC. So close that there is no need to fly! This year there are three days of conference seminars and talks, most meals, a gala dinner and behind the scenes tours of Washington's major museums for only $650. A terrific value! You can read about IAMFA, our conference agenda and register all online at www.IAMFA.org

---

Thank You!

John Castle
Director Facilities Services
Winterthur Museum
302-888-4954